GEO. F. SANBORN,
PUBLISHER AND PROPRIETOR.

The pleasures of life as viewed by people of different periods and under different circumstances, present thoughts both interesting and varied. While the child finds mountains of pleasure in the simplest toy, the advance to maturity lessens its appreciation and constantly opens a wider field in which to search for amusement. To those who have reached the age in which active life becomes a necessity, and pleasure more of a rarity, the early days of childhood begin to be appreciated in a sense never before realized. How many are there who the constant care of business finds them year after year glued to that monotonous routine of daily labor, from which recreation with them is thought to be out of the question. Now this is where the great mistake is made. It is every person's duty to cast away the cares of business occasionally and find some retreat where overtaxed nerves may find that relaxation never accorded them by the slave to business. What does it profit a man to toil from early dawn to late at night for a brief lifetime, when a little pleasure now and then would prolong his days? Why should he make a veritable slave of himself? It is often and truthfully remarked that we have but one lifetime to enjoy or make miserable as we will, and what amusement we have we must get as we pass along life's journey. The great and growing difficulty is the fact that the more of that almighty dollar we get the more we want, and in our eager search for it health is broken and we pass to the grave chained to business until a broken constitution and days of suffering end in death. How many poor sufferers can we call to mind whose days have been spent in the harness, not always for the pecuniary gain, but quite often by force of habit, whose health has been broken, and the hard earnings accumulated for years of strife serve not one iota to check the intrusions of disease. Money will often buy pleasure but in the restoration of health and ruined constitutions it is as valueless as the sands on the seashore. Recreation and rest from business cares are very often a stitch in time.

The Belknap County Fair will be held at Laconia, Sept. 3, 4 and 5. Extra effort has been made to make this the finest exhibition ever held on the grounds. Wednesday will be known as Governor's day, when prominent men will be present and address the people. Thursday, Belknap Carnival Day, will be made especially interesting by means of extra amusements. Fine trotting and running races, a large exhibit and all that is required to make the occasion interesting is being added to the program. Good music. Usual railroad facilities and rates of admission.

The Grange State Fair takes place at Tilton, Sept. 10, 11 and 12. Among the attractions the present year will be an addition to the speed programme, an enlarged exhibit of farm products, the annual shoot of the Manchester Cadets, foot races, base ball games, etc. The Deering and Tilton Bands will furnish music. Gov. Goodell and other distinguished personages will be present on the second day.

In the Coke district of Pennsylvania Huns are creating a perfect reign of terror, and violence leading to murder is uppermost in their minds. They are organized into bands of anarchists and given to pillage and plunder as well as persecution of the citizens. Each person is defending himself with Winchester rifles and the governor has been asked to aid in ridding the region of this lawless element.

Bethlehem had a great time Tuesday, it being the occasion of a grand coaching parade. Gaudily trimmed equipages led by brass bands, and attended by perfect ovals all along the line helped make a gala day that will ever be remembered by the mountain tourists. Gov. Goodell was present and took part in the ceremonies.

The legislature came to a close Saturday after a rather quiet session, which ends the summer gatherings of this august assemblage. The next session will be held in the winter months when the $200,000 allowance will be given to each member, and more time can be devoted to the requirements of our commonwealth.

—Isn't it about time for another of those band concerts on the stand? We believe we have had but two this season.

—We understand Hodgson's hosiery shuts down Saturday night for a few days to make necessary repairs about the wheel.

—The second game of lawn tennis at Webster's between the married and single, will be played Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—Mr. Charles Bickford of Manchester, late the efficient and gentlemanly principal of our high school, was in town Saturday.

—The ladies of the South Church will serve a variety supper at their vestry, Saturday evening, instead of ice cream as formerly.

—Mrs. Rufus A. Benson of Somerville, Mass., has been visiting her mother, Mrs. M. A. Forsyth, accompanied by her daughter.

—Mrs. H. F. Hawkins has sufficiently recovered as to be able to ride out. Her friends hope for a continuance of improvement.

—Mr. Fred Moreland, wife and daughter, of Cambridge, Mass., are making their annual visit with Mrs. M.'s aunt, Mrs. J. W. Lang.

—Mr. W. H. Lewis, of Cran's boarding house, with a party of friends is enjoying an excursion down the lake to-day on the Estella G.

—Extensive arrangements are being made for the Reunion at The Weirs next week. Our people will be well served by trains and boats.

—The circus troupe lost themselves Wednesday morning and brought up at the hotel again after a few miles drive over a circuitous route.

—Mr. Geo. D. Pease and family of Chicago, are making their annual visit among us. Mr. Pease is a successful real estate broker in the western metropolis.

—Mrs. J. D. Cotton, Mrs. E. Ryder, Mrs. John Hodgdon, Misses Grace Hodgdon, Lulu Knowles and Bessie Clough have gone to Old Orchard Beach.

—Roberts' boarding house on High St., as it is familiarly known, has been named "Grove House," and a sign bearing that inscription will soon be erected.

—Mr. C. G. St. Clair accompanies Rubie's Band to Tilton to-day, where they furnish music for the Knights Templar on the occasion of their annual field day.

—A son of Gov. Burleigh of Maine, who married a sister of Mr. Edmund Quimby of this village, has been visiting the latter this week accompanied by his wife.

—The foundation for the engine of the Meredith Shook & Lumber Co. is being replaced with another and more substantial one, delaying work a few days longer.

—Dr. Mathewson's carriage was put to a standstill, Monday, by coming in contact with a stone post in front of A. F. Clark's, which slightly demolished the vehicle.

—Mrs. Susan McKendrick of this village, mother of the late George McKendrick, has recently been granted a pension with back pay amounting to about $2700.

—Mr. J. Harry Kendrick manipulated the tuba in his customary superior style for the circus band, and was offered $15. per week and expenses to accompany them.

—The pastor of the Baptist Church, Rev. T. Crutcher, administered the rite of believer's baptism last Sabbath to two new members. More are expected soon.

—It seems we are especially favored with summer guests this season, not so many, perhaps, in a place, but aggregating a larger number than usual. The more the merrier.

—Mr. C. W. Green walked down the street Tuesday for the first time in four years, having been a great sufferer from rheumatism. We are pleased to see him on our streets again.

—Mr. H. S. Knowles of Sanborn's drug store, leaves his situation temporarily Saturday to attend school at New Hampton. He will be in attendance at the store Saturday of each week.

—Mrs. Martha Clough, mother of Mr. A. S. Clough, celebrated her eighty-seventh birthday Friday of last week by a walk to the residence of Mrs. Jane Perkins, a distance of half a mile.

—The News office has not only received a number of voluntary new subscribers this week, but has added more new features to its job department. Verily, who says the News is not booming?

—Mr. J. J. Stearns of Brookline, Mass., has been engaged to take charge of the High School beginning Sept. 2. The same corps of efficient teachers as last year have been retained for the lower departments.

—The best social assembly yet is advertised for Saturday evening at the Town Hall, when Messrs. Bert James and Harry Dow will act as floor managers, and the grand march will begin at 7:30. Floor, 50 cts.; Gallery, 10. Everybody welcome.

—Miss Ada, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gray, was accidentally run over by a fast driver in front of the Elm House Tuesday evening. She was quite severely bruised about the limbs, but not seriously injured.

—The Mechanics' Band will give an excursion to Alton Bay next Sunday on Steamer Lamproy, leaving Centre Harbor at 7:30 a. m., and Meredith at 8 for Alton Bay. Fare for the round trip 50 cts. The band will discourse sacred music.

—Mr. A. A. Buzzell, who is the present operator of the street lamps, is proving himself the gentleman for the place. His work is neat, clean and attractive. We hope his services may be retained as a permanency, and his salary made adequate to them.

—A large stone weighing several tons has been taken from a pasture off Water street to the mill of the Meredith Shook & Lumber Co., for a foundation to the engine. The concrete crossing in front of Sanborn's was badly cut by the stone.

—We have a few extra copies of the News this week to those who are not on our list, but whose names we should be glad to record. By sending only twenty-five cents the News will be sent three months, which will include the whole of our new story, "Country Luck." Try us please.

—THIS IS A GOOD CHANCE. Don't miss it. You need no capital and no experience to represent a reliable firm that warrant its stock first class. Work 32 weeks in the year and good pay weekly. Write for terms at once and secure your territory. Address Reuben Litchford & Co., Nurserymen, Rochester, N. Y. x-8-3m.

—Saturday afternoon the Senter House ball nine made our boys another visit, and after a closely contested game left the score 9 to 7 in favor of Meredith. A large company from Centre Harbor attended the game. Mr. Geo. Huntress of the Senter House and Mr. F. B. Wilson of this village officiated as umpires.

—Mrs. Mary P. Ford died at the residence of Mr. A. S. Clough about noon Saturday, after having been an invalid several months. She was the widow of the late John Ford, who was prominent among stage proprietors and drivers in days gone by, having an interest in the Meredith and Conway line for several years. The funeral of Mrs. Ford will be held at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. G. I. Bard of Walpole, N. H., delivering the sermon. The remains were taken to the Swasey cemetery on Lang St., for interment beside those of her husband.

—The attachment to our wharf which was left by steamer Gracie and has been used since by other steamers, broke down completely Sunday morning. By the way, did we not contribute something for repairs a few years ago? Have we got still another great chance for public spirit to show itself? We ought surely to provide a decent landing place, from some of the many elements that navigate the lake. If Manager Wadleigh would kindly move his hoem of logs he would be of great service to an appreciative public.

—Cather and Shallcross' circus that visited us Tuesday, drew a full house in the afternoon and a very good attendance in the evening. It served to draw into town a great number of people from outside who dropped a large amount of their surplus among us. The performance, although of course not equal to Barnum or Forepaugh, was thought value received for the low price of admission. A few of our smart ones who monkeyed with nut shells and the like, were taught some lessons in financing we hope may prove profitable to them. On the whole, it is our opinion that more money was left in town Tuesday night than an official count would have amounted to in the morning, and in consequence a benefit was the result.

—The September number of the New York FASHION BAZAR introduces the new modes for early fall wear. There are among its multitudinous engravings and colored plates costumes to suit nearly all occasions and to meet every taste. The new styles, so far as indicated, are a modification of the Empire and Directoire modes which have prevailed during the past season. Children's garments are very pretty, and the cover of the FASHION BAZAR presents some features of the new fall and winter fashions for these little ones. The September number contains a new, short story by William Black, entitled "A Snow Idyl." It also contains the continuation of the beautiful new serial story "Lenore von Tollen," translated from the German of Heimburg. There is the usual variety of interesting miscellany. A sample copy will be sent to any sample copy will be sent to any address on receipt of 25 cents by the publisher, George Munro, 17 to 27 Vandewater Street, New York. By subscription, $3 per year.

Centre Harbor.

Walter F. Hill spent the Sabbath in town.

Mr. H. R. Gould has gone to Dover to work for a while.

We notice Miss Chesterbell Case among our summer visitors.

Colonel Smith is suffering from a lame hand, the effects of a cut.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Garland are rejoicing over the arrival of a little daughter.

Many of our people are attending the Methodist camp meeting at the Weirs this week.

Mr. John A. MacDonald is making a flying visit to his old home at Prince Edward's Island.

Mrs. Rufus A. Benson of Somerville, Mass., accompanied by her daughter, Miss Dottie M. Benson, is making a short visit at her old home.

Parties wishing to enjoy the Sunday excursion of the Mechanics' Band on Steamer Lamproy, will take the boat from this place at 7:30 a. m. next Sunday.

A grand excursion on Steamer Lamproy will leave this place Saturday evening at 8:30 for a short run down the lake, when they will anchor and spend the evening in dancing on the barge. Tickets, including dance, 25 cents.

Mr. E. S. Dow and wife of Dayton, O., who have been visiting relatives here and at Red hill, have returned to their western home. Mr. Dow has put in considerable time fishing in Squam Lake, and reports a catch one day of a hundred fish of different kinds. As a parting trip, he and a couple of friends went to North Sandwich last Friday, returning at night with sixty fine brook trout, a good catch for this season of the year.

The attendants at the morning service at church last Sabbath were much pleased with the fine music rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Hand of Brookline, N. Y. Mr. Hand presided at the organ.

—The beautiful solo, "My Ain Country," with much expression, giving the somewhat difficult words of this beautiful song with perfect enunciation, an important feature in singing and one in which many soloists fail.

PECULIAR

In the combination, proportion, and preparation of its ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures when other preparations entirely fail. Peculiar in its good name at home, which is a "tower of strength abroad," peculiar in the phenomenal sales it has attained, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most successful medicine for purifying the blood, giving strength and creating an appetite.
